

OPEN DOOR

Ho, oh, ho
I know you're hurting, it's over baby
Withdrawal's painful, you just wanna die
You feel like a nothing, you're life's a big mess
Roof over your head, just collapsing everywhere

Love is an open door, groovin' in the park with someone
Love is an open door, even if it takes a broken heart
Keep on knockin'

Life can be tragic, life can be fragile
You're all alone now, not the center of it all
I gave you so much, wasn't it special
All the stars are gone, just collapsing everywhere

Love is an open door, livin' out my life with her
Love is an open door, even if it takes a lonely heart
Keep on knockin'

Love's an open door, Love's an open door
And our stone won't be cold now
Love's an open door, keep on knockin'
Woe, open it up

Ho, oh, ho
I gotta move on, gotta get over you
Find somebody new, to start up with
Pressure to find yourself, pressure to find a place
All you thought you had, keeps collapsing in your face

Love is an open door
Beating in your heart for more
Love is an open door, even if it takes an aching heart
Keep on knockin'

Love's an open door, love's an open door
And our stone won't be cold now
Keep on knockin', keep on knockin'
Love is an open door
